

‘Major Global Issues and Challenges’

国際社会研究演習

Course Outline and Basic Syllabus Information (for Students taking their Third Semester Quarter for the ‘Major Global Issues and Challenges’ course)

Course Leader: Dr. Senan Fox
Telephone number: 264 -5764
Email Address: senanfox@staff.kanazawa-u.ac.jp
Personal Website: <http://www.senanfox.com/>
Room: Room 309 (General Education Hall - GEH) (総合教育 1 号館)
Consultation Times: Email Dr. Senan Fox in advance if you wish to meet him to discuss your studies.

Theme:

This seminar will focus on a number of key global issues and challenges.

Goal of Course and Educational Objectives

At the end of the course, students should have a sound knowledge of a selected number of some of the world’s most important issues and challenges and their influence on present day international relations. In addition to brief weekly homework assignments, they should be able to display their knowledge of, and opinions about, chosen topics in a writing assignment or in an in-class presentation. See the ‘Assessment Information’ document or go to Dr. Senan Fox’s website (<http://www.senanfox.com/>) for more details.

Learning Outcomes

In one semester quarter, students will be asked to submit one writing assignment or to conduct an in-class presentation based on a topic selected by the student. Students will also be expected to complete a homework assignment for each of the topics shown below. The exact assessment requirements will be discussed in greater detail in Week 1 (Guidance Week).

Weekly Topics:

The seminars below relate to students taking their third semester quarter for the `Major Global Issues and Challenges` course.

Seminar 1: Guidance Week and Course Introduction

Seminar 2: Russia (since the end of the Cold War)

Seminar 3: Iraq and Afghanistan (since 2001)

Seminar 4: The South China Sea Disputes

Seminar 5: The Israeli – Palestinian Conflict

Seminar 6: US – Latin American Relations

Seminar 7: The Middle East since the Arab Spring (in 2010)